IRISH REMUNE ON PATRICK'S DAY

Justice John's Edict Precludes Arrests of Erin's Arratic Barley-corn Enthusiasts.

ECHO OF ALGECIRAS FUSS

Germany Butts Into Police Court Confab With Disastrous Sequences Pending.

"On St. Patrick's Day I will not allow an Irishman to come into this chamber," exclaimed Justice John yesterday morning. His attention had been called to the fact that the 17th of March was not far distant by a case that was continued by him until that date.

"Fifty the poor Irish," said Patrolman Schiefer, with a mournful expression on his countenance.

"Begorra, and I won't kape away from this place," shot back Pete Bolton, his face wrinkled into a frown, as he looked daggers at the "thoroughbred" who had spoken.

"It's meself that's with you, Pete, me boy," put in Johnnie Duffy, a real son of Erin.

"Did was correctness what you spoken, already, mine frient Schiefer, mine face pushed in nill der late yet," spluttered Mr. Neisz, who is not an Irishman.

"Sure, and I'll kape the Dutch and the Irish, too, if this noise is not cut out at once," exclaimed the One John, and for the time being it was silent.

The silence was disturbed only by the voice of Mr. Gilbert K. Pollock, who arose to inquire if the edict of the court would be in effect also on the day following the anniversary of the banishment of snakes from Ireland.

"With the flood of light that came in the sixteenth century the legendary Vergil gradually disappears and is known only to scholars, save that in remote corners of Italy the peasant will tell you of Master Vergil, the wonderful and good magician."

The lecturer's graphic account of some of these legends showed his familiarity with a long and complicated story of the medieval fancy, a mixture of allegory, folklore and classic survivals.

This able and attractive address by the professor of Latin fully closed the course of interesting lectures by five members of the faculty which have drawn large and representative audiences.

TO SAVE ERRING WOMEN. Important Meeting of Executive Committee Held Yesterday.

The Executive Committee of the Wayward Girls' Industrial Home met in the office of G. G. Davis at the City Hall yesterday afternoon. The following members were present: John L. Roper, S. T. Waddill, G. B. H. Higgins, Dr. W. P. Drewry, Rev. J. T. Mastin, Charles Hutzler and G. B. Davis. The committee has reported progress and was continued.

The following gentlemen were appointed a committee to select a suitable farm upon which to locate the home: John L. Roper, Rev. J. T. Mastin and Dr. Drewry. Dr. Drewry was made chairman of a Committee on Membership, with power to enlarge his committee as he may deem necessary.

It was demonstrated at this meeting that the people of the whole State are being attracted to the importance of the work of saving erring women and the good people who have undertaken the work home soon to have a home that will meet all the requirements.

ANNUAL PURIM BALL A NOTABLE SOCIAL EVENT

Three Score Couples in Unique Costumes Enjoy the Festivities. Prize-Winners.

The annual Purim ball of the Sir Moses Montefiore congregation in Sanger Hall last night was a very enjoyable affair and was attended by three score or more couples. Dancing was continued until early in the morning.

The dancers came masqueraded and prizes were given to the best costumed ladies and gentlemen.

Mrs. Max Freeman, as the "young man" of the "Whole Day Family" won the first ladies' prize, a handsome diamond ring.

The second ladies' prize went to Miss Kate Bernstein, who appeared as "Beauty-Boat Max."

Mr. Ike Merchant won the first gentlemen's prize, an umbrella, as "King Leo in Distress."

The second prize for gentlemen, a gold scarf pin, went to Mr. Abe Sprin, who was in the costume of a negro duke.

Thudges were Messrs. Johnnie Smith, William Green, Abe Bernstein, Wolf Miller and Isadore Schapiro.

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

The Manchester Court Bill May Be Killed in the Senate.

BEAUTIFY MAURY CEMETERY

Council Committee Looking to This End—Personal and Other Items of Interest.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 1102 Hull Street.

An effort will, in all probability, be made on the floor of the Senate in Richmond to-day to have the House bill providing for the retention of the Manchester Corporation Court, in the event of the consolidation of the two cities, recommended to the committee and there further considered.

If this is done it will, many think, mean the death of the measure. The bill is now before the Senate and can be acted upon to-day—read twice and put on the calendar for final passage on Saturday—the last day of the session of the General Assembly.

Friends of the measure will work hard to defeat any attempt to send the bill back to a committee, while its opponents are believed to be working with this end in view.

Manchesterians are very much interested in to-day's proceedings, and there will be scores of influential citizens in Richmond to watch the deliberations of the upper branch of the General Assembly on this particular measure.

Beautify Cemetery.

The Cemetery Committee met last night and transacted much business of importance. Those present were Messrs. Roper, Moore, Patnam, Nunnally and Cox.

Rev. Dr. Ring, of the First Baptist Church (colored), appeared before the committee and asked that the roadway leading to the colored cemetery be improved.

At the present time it is almost impassable, he said. The committee referred the matter to a committee, consisting of Messrs. Patnam and Ferguson.

Through the efforts of Alderman Moore, a resolution was passed instructing Superintendent William Allen, of Maury Cemetery to purchase grass seed for the plot near the home of Mr. Allen at the cemetery. The idea is to beautify the city of the dead. On the plot, near the driveway will be the word "Maury" written in the grass.

Assembly To-night. At the meeting of the City Assembly, to be held to-night, the report of the Clear Water Committee will be submitted, and will be favorably received. The members of the committee have worked hard and faithfully, and have investigated the problem thoroughly. Clear water for Manchester is an assured fact, and before another year has passed, no up-to-date filtering plant will have been installed near the pump house, with a capacity that will furnish a sufficient supply of water to every resident south of the James River in the city limits.

Another important question that is to be considered by the Assembly is the sanitary ordinance, which provides for the creation of the office of sanitary officer. Alderman John W. Moore has been particularly active in working for this measure, which originated with Dr. Rucker, the president of the Board of Health.

Approaching Marriage. Mr. E. E. Morrisette, of this city, announces the approaching marriage of his daughter, Miss Etha Curtis Morrisette, to Mr. Harvie Clyde Moore. The ceremony will be performed at the residence, No. 1025 Decatur Street, April 14th, at 4 P. M.

New Manager Here. Mr. W. A. Miller, of Hartsburg, Pa., has succeeded Mr. W. George as manager of the Manchester branch of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Mr. George has left for Baltimore to take charge of the office there.

While in the city Mr. George made a host of friends who are sorry that he is to leave for Maryland.

Be Interred in County.

The funeral of Miss Nettie O. Markham, who died Wednesday afternoon at the home of her brother, Mr. V. B. Markham, No. 17 East Seventeenth Street, will take place this morning from Mr. Hermon Church, in Chesterfield county. The remains will leave the city this morning via the Southern Railway. Interment will be made in the family burying-ground.

The deceased is survived by two brothers, Messrs. V. B. and G. T. Markham, of Manchester, and two sisters, Mrs. Porter, of Chesterfield, and Mrs. Thornton Gooden, of Keynote, W. Va.

Have Eagle Lodge.

Mr. J. E. Harding is again trying to start a Lodge of Eagles in Manchester.

Once before an attempt to secure a charter for such an order in Manchester failed, but this time, it is said, that the attempt will be carried into effect.

A meeting has been called in Prince's Hall next Sunday afternoon, when all of those who have signed the petition to become members are urged to be present.

Personals and Briefs.

The Manchester Royal Arch Chapter will meet to-night in the Masonic Temple. Many visitors are expected to attend. After the meeting a banquet will be served.

The condition of Miss Clara O'Brien, of Cowardin Avenue, who has been very ill for some weeks, was slightly improved yesterday.

Miss Lucy Wingo is confined to her home, on East Twelfth Street, with ill health.

Sergeant J. G. Saunders yesterday killed a dog that was supposed to be mad. The canine was running about the street snapping at objects when spied by the officer.

On a very pleasant visit to friends in Petersburg, Miss Lilla E. Raines has returned to her home in Petersburg.

HEALTH INVESTIGATION.

Sanitation and Other Matters Are Taken Up.

The Special Committee on Health Investigation held a somewhat lengthy meeting last night, with Dr. Williams, chairman, and Messrs. Blair and Morton present.

Drs. Oppenheimer, Garlin and Hoge, of the Board of Health, were also present. The committee went into a full investigation of the sanitary laws, and how they are enforced, especially those bearing upon tuberculosis and two hours were spent in questioning the members of the Board of Health along this line.

The committee is expected to report at its next meeting will formulate its final report to the Council and it is more than probable that it will contain some vigorous recommendations.

Evening of Good Music.

The great cornetist, Bohmrich Kivl, attracted a large and appreciative audience last evening at the Y. M. C. A. Miss Julia Heinrich, richly clothed in white, in several numbers and she was warmly applauded, while Carl Heinrich was heard to advantage as a baritone soloist and violinist.

Miss Phoebe Roberts sustained her reputation as a dramatic reader of extraordinary ability. This was the sixth number of the association course, which has been unusually strong this season.

Revival Services.

Rev. Dr. Taylor, of Petersburg, preached to another large congregation at the Second Baptist Church last night. The subject he chose was "Repentance." There was one conversion, and the general tone of the meetings seems to be increasing. Dr. Taylor will preach again at 8 o'clock to-night.

HEARST SAYS TRUSTS ARE INJURING PRODUCERS

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, March 8.—Evidence of a definite agreement between the railroads running out of New York city, upon a division of the sugar freight business, and also the payment of rebates, was given by the United States grand jury here to-day. Representatives of W. R. Hearst, the complainant in the case, declared that the government was in possession of documentary proof on every point charged, and that the United States District Attorney's office was confident in exposing the most startling relations existing between carrying and producing trusts.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company, Lowell M. Palmer, of the firm of Havemeyer and Elder in dock on charges of conspiracy, and others, representing the sugar trust, are the defendants in the principal rebate action, and other railroads figure in other proceedings. Nearly every railroad with terminals in New York or Jersey City is concerned in the proceedings, and the heads and operating officials are likely to be among those subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury.

Navaho Still Aground.

(By Associated Press.) WILMINGTON, N. C., March 8.—In view of unsettled weather conditions this morning, the tedious work of lightening the cargo of the Clyde liner Navaho, ashore inside in the Cape Fear bar, was abandoned, and the lumber, cross ties and shingles aboard were jettisoned. On high tide to-night the revenue cutter Seminole and tugs Blanche and Marion succeeded in turning the bow toward deep water, and Mr. Edgerton Parsons, of New York, representing the shipping company, was abandoned, and the lumber, cross ties and shingles aboard were jettisoned. THE TIMES-DISPATCH: RICHMOND, VA., FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1906.

MARIE CAPHILL THE WHOLE SHOW

No One Else Thought of in the Musical Comedy "Molly Moonshine."

THE SONGS ARE INIMITABLE

"Looking for My Ten" is As Good As Was "Nancy Brown" in By-Gone Days.

"Molly Moonshine," seen at the Academy last night, is not a marvel of a musical play, for there is not any great amount of catchy music in its various numbers, nor is there too much humor concealed within its lines, but it goes with a vim, and all because Marie Caphill is in the name part. That's the true story of Molly Moonshine.

Without the alluring ways of Miss Caphill, the piece would be dull, dismal and depressing, but with the lady with "a string of beads and a heavenly smile" it is one of the most pleasing productions that has been seen on the Academy stage this season, but then Miss Caphill could, with "a mere glance of her eyes," convert "Macbeth" into a rip-roaring musical comedy.

The gallery was not musically inclined last night, and Miss Caphill sighed in her heart that in anger, for nothing so delightful to her heart as to hear the "gods" lift up their voices in questionable melody, when chorus time comes around.

"Robinson Crusoe," "Don't Be What You Ain't," and "Looking for My Ten" are the songs that won round after round of applause, and worked the star until she positively protested.

All of them are excellent, and "Looking for My Ten" is as taking as was "Nancy Brown," the song that brought Miss Caphill fame and fortune several years ago.

Mr. Roy Atwell, as Lord Dumbargen, and Mr. Dick Temple, as Hon. Lionel Longmore, were both good, but Mr. George Holman, as "Marcel Garbird," the counterpart of Napoleon, was the head and front of the male contingent.

Miss Clara Palmer played the French adventuress very well, and Misses Gladys Claire and Sadie Harris showed their way into the hearts of the front rows.

There were a number of others who "also ran," and were not far away at the wire.

Madame Mantelli To-night.

A company of rare strength and exceptional balance is the promise made in the names of the artists who are now and who will for the next three years, be supporting Mme. Eugenia Mantelli, the famous prima donna, from the Metropolitan Opera House, in grand opera in English, in the organization which will be seen and heard at the Academy to-night in "The Captives."

Such a company, at such well known people as Sig. Alberti, who before joining Mme. Mantelli's company, toured the country with Mme. Schallie; Mme. Noldi, soprano, well known wherever grand opera is known; and other well known artists, who have been with the Metropolitan Opera House, management to replace Mme. Nordica in "Il Trovatore"—the same role, incidentally, in which she will be heard in this city.

The company, who this organization is Mme. Grace Morgavita Albrecht, best known in Europe as a member of the Bremer-Stadt Theatre, Bremen, and the Jubilaeum-Stadt Theatre, in Vienna. The lyric soprano is Miss Lola de Costa, a beautiful, beautiful, and gifted young artist; the second baritone, Sig. Fontana; the basso, Mr. Robert P. Cavendish, and the lyric tenor, Sig. Francescilli.

Mr. J. F. Bosch, tenor, adds largely to the strength of the company, and his full share of the honors that come to the members of the organization.

The Pit a Great Play.

Wilton Lackaye will appear at the Academy on to-morrow, matinee and night, in William A. Brady's long-promised production of Frank Norris's thrilling story of Chicago, "The Pit."

The play, made by Channing Pollock, has created a sensation wherever it has been seen, and has been welcomed as one of the greatest American plays ever produced.

Notes From the Box Office.

The sale of seats begins this morning for the engagement of McIntyre and Heath at the Academy on Monday night, in "The House of the Dead," one of the big Klaw and Erlanger companies. It is not a minstrel company, as many playgoers imagine, but a big musical organization, composed of a score of artists in the cast and a chorus of sixty voices. It is the real musical novelty of the season, and worth your attention.

The Countess von Hatfeldt, the well known comic opera star, comes to the Academy on Tuesday in a production of "The Little Duchess." Anna Held's splendid success of two years ago, The Countess von Hatfeldt, who has a voice and chorus that is capable and efficient, and a production in every way is one of the best now before the public.

"Nancy Brown" is the attraction at the Bijou next week, in which Miss Mary Langhorne has the title role, in that inimitable manner of "Nancy Brown" which has made the name and fame of the production clear across the continent. She will be supported by an able company of fifty, which includes a beauty chorus and some of the cleverest comedians on the American stage.

OUR RETAIL MEN FOR STATE FAIR

Their Association Adopts Strong Resolutions Endorsing the Scheme.

STRONG STATE ORGANIZATION

The Richmond Body to Affiliate With the Larger Association. Pure Food Show.

A most enthusiastic meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association was held last night at Murphy's Hotel. There was a large attendance of members, and many questions of importance to the retail trade were discussed.

The association adopted the following resolutions:

"Resolved, That the Retail Merchants' Association of Richmond, Va., hereby approves of and endorses the State Fair to be held in Richmond this fall, and urges its members and our citizens generally to support it and help in every laudable way to make it a great success."

The association voted to join the State Association of Retail Merchants of Virginia, which is composed of the local associations of other Virginia cities. The State Association has put a most competent organizer to work, and in a few months the entire city in Virginia will be members of the State organization.

Strong associations are now in existence in Roanoke, Lynchburg, Roanoke, Newport News, Staunton and elsewhere. The Richmond association is growing rapidly, and a number of new members being reported at the meeting.

Grocers to Come In.

The Retail Grocers' Association has decided to merge their association into this and become one organization, to be known as the Retail Merchants' Association. This will largely increase the membership.

Mr. E. H. Hyman, of Nashville, Tenn., who is in charge of the Pure Food Show, to be given in the Masonic Temple, was introduced to the association, and made a good speech. He paid a fine tribute to Richmond as a manufacturing city, and said that thirty-five Richmond firms had exhibited in the Pure Food Show, which was a much larger number of home firms than he had ever seen in any other Southern city Pure Food Show, and he attends this year.

Stand By Home People.

This association will do a great work for Richmond merchants in many ways and at the same time study carefully the wants of their customers in all lines of trade. There is no city with better retail stores than Richmond, or better prices of service, and the association wants to make it a success in all these respects, and not send their orders to Northern cities, or to patronize the itinerant merchants, who put up at leading hotels for a few days with a line of goods not any better and at higher prices than they can be bought in Richmond.

A PETERSBURG PAIR MADE ONE AT WELDON

Ceremony Performed in Presence of Many Lawyers and Court Officials.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WELDON, N. C., March 8.—Mr. Everett Minter and Miss Maud Evans, both of Petersburg, Va., were married at Halifax to-day. Justice J. E. Shields performed the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Minter returned to Petersburg on the afternoon train.

They were quite a handsome couple and the fair bride did not appear to be much over 18 years of age. Superior Court is in session here this week and in consequence there was a larger crowd of lawyers, judges and many others to witness the interesting ceremony.

DEATHS.

CHAMBERLAIN.—Died, at her home, 1504 West Main Street, at 4:20 o'clock A. M., March 8th, Mrs. MARY CHAMBERLAIN, eighty-four years old. She is survived by two sons and two daughters—John D., Curtis, Mrs. J. W. Fleming and Mrs. Cora Seigle.

The funeral will be at 3 o'clock THIS AFTERNOON from the First Baptist church. The interment will be in Hollywood. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend. No flowers.

TOOMEY.—Died, at the residence of her son, Mr. A. O. Bosch, 34 Columbia, at 6:45 P. M
